BARE BICEPS BARRED.

Ashlete Flest's Bathing Suit Prohibited at Asbury Park.

UNIT PARK, Aug. 1t. .- The sensitive modesty officially prevailing at this resort has received another severe shock, but Founder Bradley's public censor removed the cause by ing I. N. Fiest, of the Manhattan Ath letic Club, off the beach as he was escorting a bevy of pretty girls down for a dip in the sea, yesterday. Mr. Flost wore his M. A. C. suitpersoy shirt and such trousers as sprinters

The trousers were deemed to be all right but the young athlete's biceps were all ex-posed by the sleeveless jersey, and the bath-ing-suit inspector told him he must wear a suit tast covered his arms, and the luckless Fiest was compelled to retire, though the costume was the same he were last Friday in the coean-swimming contest.

The above advertisement in a morning aper relates to an incident of the late civil war, and there is a snug little sum of prize ioney in it for the survivors of the prize crew referred to. At least that is what ex-Engineer Moyles, who inserted the advertisement, believes, and he says that the sum to be divided, which amounts to about $400,000, has been waiting for claimants for the last

The Peterhoff was a British merchant steamer, which was captured by the United States cruiser Vanderbilt on Feb. 5, 1865, while attempting to run the blockade of one of the southern ports. Mr. Moyles was second assistant engineer of the Vanderbilt, and was chief engineer of the prize crew consisting of a guard of fourteen men under Capt. Nathan Lewis, which was put aboard the reterieff to take her to New York. She was there condenned, and the vessel and cargo were sold, the prize money amounting to about $400,000.

Some of this was paid out, but according to Mr. Moyles the greater part of it was retained by the Government. Capt. Lewis and a number of other members of the prize crew have since died, but the surelvors. Mr. Mayles claims, are entitled to the rest of the money.

He says he has tried to get their names from the Navy Department, but was unable to do so, and he has therefore advertised for them in the loope that they will respond, and then the claim will be pressed against the Government. Mr. Moyles is now nearly seventy years old, and has been retired from the service for several years. men under Capt.
